Love Power And Justice Paul This book presents Paul Tillich at his very best--brief, clear, stimulating, provocative. Speaking with understanding and force, he makes a basic analysis of love, power, and justice, all concepts fundamental in the mutual relations of people, of social groups, and of humankind to God. His concern is to penetrate to the essential, or ontological foundation of the meaning of each of these words and thus save them from the vague talk, idealism, cynicism, and sentimentality with which they are ... find himself beyond his depth unless he is accustomed to dealing with philosophical concepts. For Tillich immediately plunges deep into ontology in his search for the true meaning of these words and the relationship of the three concepts of love, power and justice to one another. Having found their common root in the nature of being itself, he discusses their ... LOVE, POWER, AND JUSTICE by Paul Tillich | Kirkus Reviews With Paul Tillich we have an interpretation of love and justice that is closer to that of Rauschenbusch, insofar as both reject a stark antithesis between the two concepts, but Tillich's analysis also differs in dramatic ways from Rauschenbusch. Tillich's methodology is reflected in the structure of Love, Power, and Justice. After identifying problematic "confusions" in popular understandings of each of the three concepts, Tillich's next three chapters offer "an ontology" of ... Power is expressed in the making of laws. Love is the highest principle of all justice. The law given by God is consistent with man's essential nature. The concept of God as all-powerful does not mean that God can do whatever He wants but that God is the power of being in all that is. In God love, justice and power are one. Amazon.com: Love, Power, and Justice: Ontological Analyses ... 8. Divine love and divine justice . Love and justice have often been looked upon as two distinct attributes of God. But Tillich feels that such a position is due to a misconception of the nature of love and justice. Justice, contends Tillich, is a part of love. Love is the ontological concept. Justice has no independent ontological standing. Chapter III, "A Comparison of the Conceptions of God in ...
